We recognise the value in the Financial Conduct Authority initiative of Treating Customers Fairly.

We believe that if we treat you, our customer, fairly at all stages, then this will enhance our core values and lead to better service. Therefore we are committed to ensuring that we embed the principles of Treating Customers Fairly within every aspect of our business.

keyfacts[®]

This document gives you the key information you need to help you decide whether AIG Critical Illness with Term Assurance is right for you. It is available in other formats such as Braille, large print or audio. Please ask if you need one of these formats.

This document does not contain the full terms and conditions and exclusions of cover. Please also refer to your Cover Summary and Cover Details, which will be issued when your policy starts.

This document is based on our understanding of the current laws in England and Wales and tax rules in the UK (different rules may apply in the Channel Islands, Isle of Man or Gibraltar).

If you're thinking of taking out insurance, you may wish to get expert advice from a financial adviser who can look at your personal circumstances and help you make the decision that's right for you. For help in finding a financial adviser, please visit the 'How to buy' page on our website.

What is AIG Critical Illness with Term Assurance?

AIG Critical Illness with Term Assurance is designed to pay out a lump sum when the person covered dies or is diagnosed with a terminal illness - where life expectancy is less than 12 months, or suffers or undergoes one of the specified critical illnesses or operations, during the term of the policy.

AIG Critical Illness with Term Assurance can be used to help pay off a mortgage, provide a legacy or financial protection for a family member or friend.

If the sum paid out under this policy forms part of your estate, it may not be free of inheritance tax. You may wish to place your policy in trust to help mitigate the effect of inheritance tax. However, we cannot advise whether a trust is suitable in any particular circumstances or give tax advice in relation to the use of trusts. We recommend that you take professional advice before setting up a trust.

Who can buy AIG Critical Illness with Term Assurance?

AIG Critical Illness with Term Assurance is available to British citizens or those resident in the United Kingdom, Channel Islands, Isle of Man and Gibraltar. They must be aged 17 up to and including 75. In certain circumstances we may be able to offer cover where the person to be covered is a resident overseas. Please contact us for further information.

You can select to insure:

- you alone - we call this 'single life' cover;
- you and another person - we call this 'joint life' cover; or
- one or two people other than yourself - this can be either 'single' or 'joint life' cover.

If you select joint life cover, the policy will pay out if either person dies or is diagnosed with a terminal illness, or suffers or undergoes one of the specified critical illnesses or operations before the end of your policy. The policy will stop once we have paid the full sum assured.

How does AIG Critical Illness with Term Assurance work?

The amount of cover

When you take out AIG Critical Illness with Term Assurance, you decide how much cover you want. This amount is called the 'sum assured'. This is the amount we pay if the person covered dies or is diagnosed with a terminal illness, or suffers or undergoes one of the specified critical illnesses or operations during the term of the policy.

The term of the cover

The term of the cover is how long the insurance lasts. You choose the term of the cover. This can be any number of years between 3 and 50 although the policy must end before the person covered reaches their 86th birthday.

Types of cover

- Level - this covers you for a fixed sum assured.
- Decreasing - the sum assured decreases each month to zero at the end of your policy. This works in the same way as the outstanding amount on a repayment mortgage. You can select an interest rate of either 5%, 6%, 7%, 8%, 10%, 11%, 13% or 15%.
- Increasing - your sum assured increases each year by 5%.

Further information regarding these types of cover is available in section B1 of the Cover Details.

Paying for your policy

Your premiums will be guaranteed and will not change unless you choose increasing cover.

We will collect monthly or annual premiums from you by direct debit to pay for your insurance until the date your insurance ends.

Additional options available at extra cost

- Waiver of Premium - you can include Waiver of Premium in your policy if the person covered is aged 54 and below when you buy your policy. We will waive your premiums if the person covered is incapacitated for longer than 26 weeks. Waiver of Premium will end when the person covered reaches their 70th birthday.
- Total Disability - you can include Total Disability in your policy if the person covered is aged 59 and below when you buy your policy. Total Disability is cover for non-permanent disability. If you select this option, Total Permanent Disability is included automatically. We will pay a percentage of the sum assured as the benefit. If the person covered is then diagnosed with another specified critical illness or they meet our definition of Total Permanent Disability, we will pay the sum assured less the payments we have already made for Total Disability. Total Disability will end when the person covered reaches their 70th birthday.

- Total Permanent Disability - you can include Total Permanent Disability in your policy if the person covered is aged 59 and below when you buy your policy. The person covered will usually have to be incapacitated for at least 26 weeks before we can establish whether the incapacity is permanent. Once we have established that the incapacity is permanent, we will pay the full sum assured and the cover will end. Total Permanent Disability will end when the person covered reaches their 70th birthday.

Waiver of Premium, Total Disability and Total Permanent Disability options may not be available to everyone or we may restrict cover. If this happens, we will explain our decision.

How we define incapacitated depends on whether the person covered is in paid work and what kind of work they do. This definition will be agreed at application and shown in the Cover Summary, based on their circumstances at the time. If their circumstances change prior to becoming incapacitated, a different definition may apply to their claim. For a full definition of incapacitated, please see section E of the Cover Details.

For further information regarding Waiver of Premium, Total Disability and Total Permanent Disability, please see sections B2b and B3 of the Cover Details.

Critical illnesses covered

The critical illnesses we cover fall within three groups:

- Group I – If the person covered meets any of the conditions listed under this Group I, we will pay the full sum assured, less any payments already made for Total Disability if included. Once we have paid the full sum assured, the cover will end.
- Group II – These are additional payment conditions that pay a proportion of the sum assured. The maximum amount we will pay for a Group II condition is the lower of 50% of the sum assured or £35,000.
- Group III – These are additional payment conditions specifically covering children. The maximum amount we will pay for a Group III condition is the lower of 50% of the sum assured or £35,000.

Full definitions can be found in section B2a of the Cover Details.

- Single lobectomy - the removal of a complete lobe of a lung

- Skin cancer (not including melanoma) - advanced stage as specified
- Syringomyelia or syringobulbia – treated by surgery.

Children's critical illness benefit

Your policy also includes cover for children of the person covered. Children are covered from birth up to age 22.

Children are covered for terminal illness and all critical illnesses specified under Group I and Group II, except Loss of Independence or any additional options such as Waiver of Premium, Total Disability or Total Permanent Disability.

Group III critical illness conditions

Children are also covered for additional child specific conditions (Group III):

- Cerebral palsy
- Craniosynostosis - requiring surgery
- Cystic fibrosis
- Down's syndrome
- Edwards Syndrome
- Hydrocephalus - treated with the insertion of a shunt
- Muscular dystrophy
- Osteogenesis imperfecta
- Patau syndrome
- Spina bifida.

There are some restrictions attached to children's critical illness cover and these are explained further in section B1 of the Cover Details.

Children's critical illness benefit is the lower of 50% of the sum assured or £35,000.

There is no limit on how many children are covered under one policy. However, children's critical illness benefit will be payable once per child. The maximum children's critical illness benefit payable for each child is the lower of 50% of the sum assured or £35,000, regardless of how many policies you hold with AIG.

We will pay double the amount of the children's critical illness benefit if in the opinion of the treating consultant and our Consultant Medical Officer:

- the child is unable to receive treatment for the children's critical illness in the UK that is effective in curing or preventing further deterioration of the condition; and
- a treatment that is effective, curative or prevents further deterioration is available overseas.

Child life cover

If a child dies during the term of the cover, we will pay a child life cover benefit of £10,000. If the child is diagnosed with a terminal illness, we will pay the child life cover benefit early.

Child life cover is payable in addition to children's critical illness benefit. Child life cover is payable once per child, regardless of how many policies you hold with AIG.

Pregnancy cover

If the person covered suffers from a defined complication during pregnancy, we will pay £5,000 per pregnancy, unless the claim is because of foetal death in utero, neo-natal death or stillbirth, in which case we'll pay £5,000 per foetus or child. This is the maximum amount we would pay regardless of how many policies you hold with AIG.

Any claim made under children's critical illness, child life cover or pregnancy cover will not affect your main sum assured.

Changing your policy

There are many ways that you can change your policy to make sure that it is still meeting your needs.

You can increase the amount of your cover without providing further medical evidence if the person covered is 55 years old or less and:

- gets married or becomes a civil partner;
- has a child (including adopting a child or becoming a legal guardian); or
- increases the amount of their mortgage.

There is a limit to how much you can increase your sum assured – it can't be more than the lower of 50% of the current sum assured or £75,000.

In addition, you can choose to:

- reduce the sum assured;
- increase the term of the cover;
- reduce the term of the cover;
- stop and restart annual increases if you have selected increasing cover;
- change from a decreasing to a level sum assured
- add another person to single life cover; or
- change your premiums from annual to monthly and vice versa.

A further change which can be made on joint life cover is where the persons covered get divorced or separated, or obtain a dissolution of a civil partnership and they take out new mortgages. In this instance, each person can choose to take separate cover as long as the total cover across both new policies does not exceed 100% of the sum assured held when they originally bought the insurance. This option must be exercised within six months of separation and taking out new mortgages, however it cannot be exercised within the last three years of the policy term. Both people must agree to the change.

These options may not be available to everyone, for example if the person covered has a particular medical condition when the cover is first taken out. For more information, including further limitations, please see section C4 of the Cover Details.

Important information

You can only insure someone else if you would suffer financially were they to die or suffer a terminal illness or critical illness. We call this 'insurable interest'. You will always have an insurable interest in your own life, or in the life of your spouse or civil partner.

AIG Critical Illness with Term Insurance will only pay a benefit for a critical illness if the person covered meets our definition of that critical illness or operation as defined in section B2a of the Cover Details.

For some people, we may not include every critical illness. This could be because, for example, they have a particular medical condition when they apply for cover. The Cover Summary will show if we have excluded any of these critical illnesses from the cover we are offering.

AIG Critical Illness with Term Assurance only protects you against events that happen to the person covered during the term of your policy. If something happens outside that term, you won't be covered. Your Cover Summary shows what is covered and for how long.

If you don't review your policy in line with your earnings and lifestyle, you may have more or less cover than you need.

Inflation will reduce the spending power of any benefit you are paid in the future. To help protect your cover against this effect, you can choose to set it up with a sum assured that increases by 5% each year. If the policy has an increasing sum assured, the premium will be reviewed annually and will increase by a higher percentage than that of the sum assured, because the amount of the increase of the premium will depend on the age of the person covered and the remaining term of the policy at that time.

If you set up a cover with an increasing sum assured, the amount you pay will increase each year to pay for the extra cover. If you then change to a level sum assured, the premium will remain at the level it was when you made the change. If you restart the annual increase, the premium will increase again.

If you have a mortgage and choose decreasing cover and select an interest rate that does not meet or exceed the rate you are paying on your mortgage, the benefit we will pay for a successful claim may not meet the outstanding amount of your mortgage.

If the person covered by Critical Illness with Term Insurance meets our definition of Total Disability, if this option was selected when the cover started, we will pay a percentage of the sum assured as the benefit. If the person covered is then diagnosed with another critical illness that we cover, we will pay the sum assured less the payments we have already made for Total Disability. This means that if you have chosen a sum assured for Critical Illness with Term Insurance that covers a mortgage, and you receive these benefits, the remaining sum assured may not be enough to cover the cost of your mortgage unless you use these benefit payments to reduce your outstanding mortgage amount.

In the event of a Total Disability claim on a cover with a decreasing lump sum, the cover will end earlier than the original end date.

A claim for terminal illness can only be made where the person covered has been diagnosed with 12 months or less to live. If a medical consultant cannot determine this, or expects death to occur more than one year after diagnosis, we will not pay a benefit.

If a child is diagnosed before birth with a children's critical illness and dies within 10 days of being born, we will not pay a children's critical illness benefit.

If a child of the person covered dies within 10 days of being diagnosed with a critical illness, we will not pay a children's critical illness benefit.

We will not pay a child life cover benefit in the following circumstances:

- if the cause of death first arose before the cover started or before you last restarted the cover; or
- if the cause of death is miscarriage or stillbirth.

We will not pay a pregnancy cover benefit in the following circumstances:

- if the person covered was aware of an increased risk of suffering from a complication of pregnancy before the cover started or restarted; or
- if the pregnancy resulted in a child life cover benefit being paid.

For further information on when we may not pay a benefit, please see section B1 of the Cover Details.

For joint life policies, the policy will stop if one person covered dies or is diagnosed with a terminal illness, or suffers or undergoes one of the specified Group I critical illnesses or operations. The other person will therefore no longer be insured under this policy.

For a death claim, the person covered can be anywhere in the world.

For critical illness and terminal illness claims, the person covered can be residing anywhere in the world, however the consultant must be in an eligible country.

For Waiver of Premium, Total Disability and Total Permanent Disability claims, the person covered must be living in an eligible country when they become incapacitated. They must return to and remain in the UK, Channel Islands, Isle of Man or Gibraltar within 26 weeks of becoming incapacitated in order to receive the benefit.

We will not waive premiums if the person covered is incapacitated and Waiver of Premium is not included in the cover for that person (this information will be shown in the Cover Summary).

If any premium remains unpaid for more than 30 days from the date it was due to be collected, we will cancel your policy and you will no longer be covered.

Other information

Making a claim

We want to make it easy for someone to claim. Whoever is making the claim should get in touch as soon as they can using the contact details provided.

If you would like to know more about how to claim please see section C5 of the Cover Details.

We will pay the benefit to the person legally entitled to receive it. Who this will be depends on the nature of the claim, the circumstances at the time and whether the policy has been assigned or put under trust.

During the course of the claim assessment, we will establish and confirm who we identify as legally entitled to receive the benefit.

When we won't pay a claim

We won't pay a claim if you don't:

- pay regular monthly or annual premiums throughout the term of your policy;
- give us accurate, complete and true information when you apply for AIG Critical Illness with Term Assurance;
- give us any medical or other evidence that we ask for; or
- tell us immediately if any of the information in the Cover Summary or Application Details we send you is wrong.

We also won't pay a claim if the person covered dies as a result of their own actions within one year of the cover start date or of them restarting the cover. Once the cover has been active for more than 12 months, if the person covered has asked us to increase the sum assured in the 12 months prior to them dying as a result of their own actions, no benefit will be payable in respect of this increase.

Further information about when we won't pay a claim can be found in section B1 of the Cover Details.

Changing your mind about AIG Critical Illness with Term Assurance

When your policy starts, we will send you information about your right to change your mind and cancel your policy. You have 30 days from the date you receive this information to cancel your policy. If you cancel your policy in this time we will refund any premiums you've paid, unless we have paid you a benefit before you cancel.

Should you not cancel your policy within this time period, your policy will remain active as set out in your Cover Summary.

You can stop your policy at any other time. Once you tell us, your policy will end on the day before your next monthly premium to us is due. Any premiums paid to date will not be refunded. If you are paying annual premiums, your policy will end on the day before the next monthly anniversary of the policy. We will retain the cost of any full (or partial) months of cover up to the date of cancellation and will refund any balance of the annual premium.

Your policy will not have a surrender value at any time.

The Law

The Law of England and Wales will apply to this insurance.

Language

All our communications with you now, and throughout the term of your insurance, will be in English.

Current tax rules

Under current legislation and HMRC practice, benefit(s) payable under this cover are normally free from Income Tax and Capital Gains Tax for UK residents, unless you assign your policy to someone else.

Professional guidance should be sought before any type of assignment or changed ownership is undertaken.

If your policy is not placed in trust, the benefit we pay may form part of your estate for inheritance tax purposes.

Personal information we collect

Personal information we collect about you includes sensitive information such as your health and medical history. Where we collect this information, we will rely either on your consent, or on a combination of the following legal justifications: performing a contract with you or preparing to enter into a contract with you; complying with regulatory requirements; or having a legitimate interest to request your personal information.

To give you a quicker decision about your insurance, we may make decisions about your application using an 'automated decision-making tool'. An 'automated decision-making tool' doesn't involve human input and we sometimes use it to determine whether we are able to provide you with insurance and on what terms based on the answers you give us.

We may also use your personal information to detect, investigate and prevent crime (including fraud and money laundering).

Where permitted by applicable law, AIG may share personal information with carefully selected third parties, for example, other insurers, reinsurers, and financial advisers.

Your personal information may be transferred outside the country in which you are located including to countries outside the European Economic Area.

As a data subject you have certain rights in relation to your personal information. More details about AIG's use of personal information and your rights as a data subject can be found at www.aiglife.co.uk/privacy-policy or you may request a copy using the following contact details: Data Protection Officer, AIG Life, 58 Fenchurch Street, London, EC3M 4AB or by email at DataProtectionOfficer@aiglife.co.uk

About our business

Making a complaint

If you have a complaint, you can get in touch with us using the contact details provided.

We will try to resolve complaints as quickly and fairly as possible. If we cannot deal with your complaint promptly, we'll send you a letter to acknowledge it and give you regular updates until it is resolved.

If you are not happy with how we deal with your complaint, you can refer it to the Financial Ombudsman Service.

You can email them at complaint.info@financialombudsman.org.uk
Call 0800 023 4567 (calls to this number are free on mobile phones and landlines) or 0300 123 9123 (calls to this number cost no more than calls to 01 and 02 numbers) or write to:
The Financial Ombudsman Service, Exchange Tower, Harbour Exchange Square, London E14 9SR.

Making a complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service does not affect your right to take legal action.

What happens if AIG got into financial trouble and couldn't pay out the money?

The Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) is there to protect you if we cannot meet our obligations. Whilst most customers will be covered under the FSCS, whether or not you can claim and the amount you can claim depends on the specific circumstances of your claim. You can get further information from www.fscs.org.uk or by calling 020 7741 4100.
