keyfacts[®]

This document gives you the key information you need to help you decide whether AIG Low Start Term Assurance is right for you. It is available in other formats such as Braille, large print or audio. Please ask if you need one of these formats.

This document does not contain the full terms and conditions and exclusions of cover. Please also refer to your Cover Summary and Cover Details, which will be issued when your policy starts.

This document is based on our understanding of the current laws in England and Wales and tax rules in the UK (different rules may apply in the Channel Islands or Isle of Man).

If you're thinking of taking out insurance, you may wish to get expert advice from a financial adviser who can look at your personal circumstances and help you make the decision that's right for you.

What is AIG Low Start Term Assurance?

AIG Low Start Term Assurance is designed to pay out a lump sum when the person covered dies or is diagnosed with a terminal illness - where life expectancy is less than 12 months, during the term of the policy.

AIG Low Start Term Assurance can be used to help pay off a mortgage, provide a legacy or financial protection for a family member or friend.

AIG Low Start Term Assurance is designed to allow you to take out the full amount of cover you need at the outset. Premiums are based on your age and health at the beginning of the policy and increase over the term of the policy to reflect the increased risks you face as you get older.

If the sum paid out under this policy forms part of your estate, it may not be free of inheritance tax. You may wish to place your policy in trust to help mitigate the effect of inheritance tax. However, we cannot advise whether a trust is suitable in any particular circumstances or give tax advice in relation to the use of trusts. We recommend that you take professional advice before setting up a trust.

Who can buy AIG Low Start Term Assurance?

AIG Low Start Term Assurance is available to British citizens or those resident in the United Kingdom, Channel Islands or Isle of Man, aged 17 up to and including 86.

You can select to insure:

- you alone - we call this 'single life' cover;
- you and another person - we call this 'joint life' cover; or
- one or two people other than yourself - this can be either 'single' or 'joint life' cover.

If you select joint life cover, the policy will pay out if either person dies or suffers a terminal illness before the end of your policy. The policy will stop once we have paid the full sum assured.

How does AIG Low Start Term Assurance work?

The amount of cover

When you take out AIG Low Start Term Assurance, you decide how much cover you want. This amount is called the 'sum assured'. This is the amount we pay if the person covered dies or is diagnosed with a terminal illness during the term of the policy.

The term of the cover

The term of the cover is how long the insurance lasts. You choose the term of the cover. This can be any number of years between 3 and 70, although the policy must end before the person covered reaches their 90th birthday.

Types of cover

AIG Low Start Term Assurance is only available as a level cover - this covers you for a fixed sum assured.

Paying for your policy

Premiums increase every year over the full term of the policy. Your quote will include an illustration of how the premiums increase over the first 10 years of your policy and, if you decide to buy AIG Low Start Term Assurance, we will confirm this in your policy pack. We will also show the total cost of premiums for the term of the cover chosen.

Provided you do not make any further changes to your policy, the premium increases are guaranteed not to change from that quoted.

We will write to you each year confirming the new premium. You can choose not to accept the increase, and if this is the case, your sum assured will be reduced to reflect the current level of premiums that you are paying.

We will collect monthly or annual premiums from you by direct debit to pay for your insurance until the date your insurance ends.

Additional option available at extra cost

- Waiver of Premium - you can include Waiver of Premium in your policy, if the person covered is aged 54 and below when you buy your policy. We will waive your premiums if the person covered is incapacitated for longer than 26 weeks. Waiver of Premium will end when the person covered reaches their 70th birthday.

Waiver of Premium may not be available to everyone or we may restrict cover. If this happens, we will explain our decision.

How we define incapacitated depends on whether the person covered is in paid work and what kind of work they do. This definition will be agreed at application and shown in the Cover Summary, based on their circumstances at the time. If their circumstances change prior to becoming incapacitated, a different definition may apply to their claim. For a full definition of incapacitated, please see section E of the Cover Details.

For further information regarding Waiver of Premium, please see section B2 of the Cover Details.

Changing your policy

There are many ways that you can change your policy to make sure that it is still meeting your needs.

You can increase the amount of your cover without providing further medical evidence if the person covered is 55 years old or less and:

- gets married or becomes a civil partner;
- has a child (including adopting a child or becoming a legal guardian); or
- increases the amount of their mortgage.

There is a limit to how much you can increase your sum assured - it can't be more than the lower of 50% of the current sum assured or £75,000.

In addition you can choose to:

- reduce the sum assured;
- increase the term of the cover;
- reduce the term of the cover;
- change from premiums increasing each year to premiums that will remain level for the rest of the term of the cover (this will result in a reduced sum assured)
- add another person to single life cover; or
- change your premiums from annual to monthly and vice versa.

A further change which can be made on joint life cover is where the persons covered get divorced or separated, or obtain a dissolution of a civil partnership and they take out new mortgages. In this instance, each person can choose to take separate cover as long as the total cover across both new policies does not exceed 100% of the sum assured held when they originally bought the insurance. This option must be exercised within six months of separation and taking out new mortgages, however cannot be exercised within the last three years of the policy term. Both people must agree to the change.

These options may not be available to everyone, for example if the person covered has a particular medical condition when the cover is first taken out. For more information, including further limitations, please see section C4 of the Cover Details.

Important information

You can only insure someone else if you would suffer financially were they to die or suffer a terminal illness. We call this 'insurable interest'. You will always have an insurable interest in your own life, or in the life of your spouse or civil partner.

AIG Low Start Term Assurance only protects you against events that happen to the person covered during the term of your policy. If something happens outside that term, you won't be covered. Your Cover Summary shows what is covered and for how long.

If you don't review your policy in line with your earnings and lifestyle, you may have more or less cover than you need.

AIG Low Start Term Assurance premiums start low but increase annually throughout the term of the cover. Therefore if you maintain the policy to the end of its term, you may pay a higher total premium amount than you would have done for a level premium policy.

A claim for terminal illness can only be made where the person covered has been diagnosed with 12 months or less to live. If a medical consultant cannot determine this, or expects death to occur more than one year after diagnosis, we will not pay a benefit.

For joint life policies, the policy will stop if one person covered dies or suffers a terminal illness. The other person will therefore no longer have insurance cover under this policy.

For a death claim, the person covered can be anywhere in the world.

For a terminal illness claim, the person covered can be residing anywhere in the world, however the consultant must be in an eligible country.

For Waiver of Premium claims, the person covered must be living in an eligible country when they become incapacitated. They must return to and remain in the UK, Channel Islands or Isle of Man within 26 weeks of becoming incapacitated in order to receive the benefit.

We will not waive premiums if the person covered is incapacitated and Waiver of Premium is not included in the cover for that person (this information will be shown in the Cover Summary).

If you don't pay your first premium, your policy won't start and you won't be covered. If you miss a subsequent premium and it remains unpaid for more than 30 days from the date it was due to be collected, we will cancel your policy and you will no longer be covered.

Other information

Making a claim

We want to make it easy for someone to claim. Whoever is making the claim should get in touch as soon as they can using the contact details provided.

If you would like to know more about how to claim, please see section C5 of the Cover Details.

We will pay the benefit to the person legally entitled to receive it. Who this will be depends on the nature of the claim, the circumstances at the time and whether the policy has been assigned or put under trust.

During the course of the claim assessment, we will establish and confirm who we identify as legally entitled to receive the benefit.

When we won't pay a claim

We won't pay a claim if you don't:

- pay regular monthly or annual premiums throughout the term of your policy;
- give us accurate, complete and true information when you apply for AIG Low Start Term Assurance;
- give us any medical or other evidence that we ask for; or
- tell us immediately if any of the information in the Cover Summary or Application Details we send you is wrong.

Further information about when we won't pay a claim can be found in section B1 of the Cover Details.

Changing your mind about AIG Low Start Term Assurance

When your policy starts, we will send you information about your right to change your mind and cancel your policy. You have 30 days from the date you receive this information to cancel your policy. If you cancel your policy in this time we will refund any premiums you've paid, unless we have paid you a benefit before you cancel.

Should you not cancel your policy within this time period, your policy will remain active as set out in your Cover Summary.

You can stop your policy at any other time. Once you tell us, your policy will end on the day before your next monthly premium to us is due. Any premiums paid to date will not be refunded. If you are paying annual premiums, your policy will end on the day before the next monthly anniversary of the policy. We will retain the cost of any full (or partial) months of cover up to the date of cancellation and will refund any balance of the annual premium.

Your policy will not have a surrender value at any time.

The Law

The Law of England and Wales will apply to this insurance.

Professional guidance should be sought before any type of assignment or changed ownership is undertaken.
