Why you should recommend our critical illness cover

Cancer

Every two minutes someone in the UK is diagnosed with cancer*, which is why we will pay a full or additional payment on most types of cancers, including skin cancer, cervical cancer or prostate cancer.

We will also make multiple payments if your client suffers from a different less advanced cancer on separate occasions.

Ten child-specific conditions

AIG Life strives to be a family-orientated insurer - we therefore pay out not only on major conditions that can affect both adults and children but we also cover an additional 10 child-specific conditions including Cystic fibrosis and Down’s syndrome.

Best Doctors®

We not only support our customers throughout the term of the cover but also cater for their wellbeing when their cover ends. We do this by giving our claimants access to Best Doctors®, a second medical opinion service, during the term of the cover and for three years following payment of the full sum assured.

Major organ transplant

It doesn’t matter whether the organ originates from a human, an animal or is an artificial device, as long as it can save a life, we are more than happy to provide a payout.

More than financial support from AIG

Medical advice from the world’s Best Doctors®

Our focus is not only on paying insurance claims but on delivering more than just financial support for your clients and their family when they need it the most. If your client is diagnosed with a serious illness, they will have lots of questions and will need clear and reliable answers from someone they trust. Best Doctors® service can do just that and it’s why we include it in our critical illness policies at no extra cost.

Even if your client has had their claim settled and their policy ends, our support doesn’t end there as they can still access the Best Doctors® service for three years. This will enable them to receive important follow-up support to help them manage and live with the after-effects of treatment.*
